

Nairobi's Anthropocene 2022 - past, present and future archives
exploring Nairobi's potential for a GSSP

IGCP 732 "LANGUAGE" of the Anthropocene annual meeting

EAT (Nairobi)	Nairobi-focussed		Environmental-focussed	Technical-focussed
	Monday, 14th		Tuesday, 15th	Wednesday, 16th
10:00 am - 10:15 am	Introduction to the IGCP 732 project by Michael Wagreich		10:00 am - 10:25 am	Records of radioactive iodine-129 in Chinese sediments by Luyuan Zhang
10:15 am - 11:00 am	Opening and Introduction Technical University of Kenya, National Museums of Kenya and Geological Society of Kenya		10:25 am - 10:50 am	Multi-time scale variations of black carbon, char, and soot in association with climate change and human activities by Yalan Tang
11:00 am - 11:30 am	A Kenya perspective on the Anthropocene by Lydia Olaka		10:50 am - 11:15 am	The Anthropocene Hg pollution record from multi-lake sediment cores in NE China by Kunshan Bao
11:30 am - 11:45 am	Break		11:15 am - 11:40 am	Warfare impact overtakes climate-controlled fires in the eastern Silk Roads since 2100 BP by Shanjia Zhang
11:45 am - 12:15 pm	Anthropocene stratigraphy in Southern Africa by Simon Turner		11:40 am - 11:55 am	Break
12:15 pm - 12:45 pm	Geological archives of the Anthropocene by Colin Waters		11:55 am - 12:20 pm	Climate change, monsoon variability and anthropogenic controls on floods in Pakistan by Mehwish Bibi
12:45 pm - 1:10 pm	PAGES Anthropocene Network ECR activities and opportunities by Christine Omuombo		12:20 pm - 12:45 pm	Climate change and glacial lake outburst flood risk in north Pakistan by Shahid Iqbal
			12:45 pm - 1:10 pm	Geoelectric Imaging of Groundwater Pollution: Groundwater resources in Indonesia's new capital city by Ibnu Taslim and Jamaluddin
1:10 pm - 2:10 pm	Lunch Break
2:10 pm - 3:10 pm	Data collection using google Earth by Stanley Chasia		2:10 pm - 3:10 pm	National Museums of Kenya repository tour by Stephen Rucina, Husna Mashaka On-site only
3:10 pm - 4:30 pm	Workshop session I  Virtual tour Nairobi by Lorna Njanja  Reconstructing vegetation changes in Kilombe Caldera , Baringo County, Kenya: Using plant microfossils in relation to the modern vegetation composition by Rebecca Muriuki  Longterm Perspectives on Land Management among Pastoralists Experiencing change, insights in the Turkana Basin by Emmanuel Ndiema  Impact of Nomadic Pastoralism on modern landscapes and vegetation cover by Husna Mashaka  Discussion		3:10 pm - 4:30 pm	Workshop session II  The Anthropocene landscapes of Nairobi and New Orleans – searching for the signal of change  by Catherine Russell & Lydia Olaka  Anthropogenic Activities and how they influence water safety and our health by Faith Mbite  Human Impacts on the Ecology of the Kereits Forests from the precolonial era to the present Kiambu county, Kenya by Aggrey Minya
4:30 pm - 5:00 pm	Break
5:30 pm - 6:30 pm	Ice Breaker Party On-site only		5:00 pm - 6:00 pm	Discussion and Closing